

Patterns emerging from the research report from the All-Party Parliamentary Group (APPG) for Dyslexia and other SpLDs

As part of the work of the APPG for Dyslexia and other SpLDs, the British Dyslexia Association has worked with parenting and neurodiversity coach John Hicks to gain a snapshot of familial experiences of dyslexia and its impact. Dr Helen Ross, dyslexia/SpLD expert and SEN practitioner at Helen's Place joined the project to guide data processing and analysis.

An online survey was distributed through social media (Facebook, Twitter and LinkedIn). Over 1,300 responses were received. Survey participants were self-selecting and in addition to answering short, closed questions relating to their experiences of dyslexia, they were also able to write open-ended comments giving more detail, in their own words – in excess of 2,500 comments were received. The following diagram illustrates the patterns that emerged from this research.
